EASTON HIGH SCHOOL

EASTON, PENNSYLVANIA

VOL. XLIX 1952

DEDICATION

We the Class of 1952, are setting a precedent by dedicating our yearbook to not one, but two of the teachers who have guided us in our exploration of this treasure house of knowledge.

For many years Miss Verna Reed has taught French and English at Easton High School. At the same time she has served well as adviser to the French Club, to Y-Teen Clubs, and to the Student Council. Her many activities are proof of her friendliness and willingness to help people.

Mr. William Wagner, our genial Latin teacher, is the adviser of the Latin Club, the largest group of its kind in the school. He has proved that a Latin class can be as interesting as a club meeting or a trip to New York.

Achievement truly strikes the keynote of their work at Easton High School.

Mr. Lear, Mrs. Lillicrapp, Mr. Streepy, Mr. Seip, Mr. Richards, Dr. Bay, Mr. Troxell, Mr. Weber, Mr. Donovan, Mr. Skinner, Mr. Waterbor, Mr. Genther.

MAINTENANCE STAFF

Around the clock the maintenance staff of Easton High School is always on the job. Preparing the meals in the cafeteria, cleaning up around the building, keeping the building in repair, and guarding the building during the night are some of the duties which they perform faithfully. We appreciate their service, for we know that without their help Easton High School could not continue to carry on smoothly and efficiently.

SIGNING IN AT THE OFFICE

MR. CARRIL,

MR. HUNTER,

MR. JAQUITH,

MR. KELLOW

STUDENT TEACHERS

These gentlemen, who are majoring in teaching, are seniors at Lafayette. They came to Easton High School to gain experience in practicing their future profession.

STAGE HANDS

Without Gerald and Bob the numerous productions given by Easton High School could never have been successful. The hard work of these industrious boys will always be remembered by the Class of 1952.

EASTON 33

WILSON 7

The Easton Red Rovers opened the 1951 football season by crushing a weak Wilson ball club. Outstanding in this game were Payne and Bertolino, who scored most of the Rovers' touchdowns.

EASTON 13

MASTBAUM TECH 0

On Saturday the Red and White battled a strong Mastbaum Tech team at Cottingham Stadium. The Rovers had a little trouble with Tech, but they managed to come out on top with their second straight victory of the season.

EASTON 28

ROXBOROUGH 7

Although the Red Rovers held Roxborough to one touchdown, they still found plenty of time to score four themselves. Easton employed a two platoon system for the first time this season and found it to be very successful.

EASTON 27

SCRANTON TECH 13

Trailing at half time by the count of 13-7, the Red and White came back in the second half to defeat a fine Tech eleven in the first night game of the season.

EASTON 13

HERSHEY INDUSTRIAL 8

Giving the Rovers a good battle all the way, a strong Hershey team finally was subdued; thus, Easton won its fifth consecutive game.

EASTON 7

BETHLEHEM 28

A powerful Hurricane team invaded Cottingham Stadium to hand Easton its first defeat of the season. Fine passing and a good defensive play sparked the visitors to a victory.

EASTON 6

JOHN HARRIS 21

The Red Rovers of Easton tasted their second defeat of the year from John Harris. The statistics for the game were practically even; yet the Harirsburg team was too strong for the Red and White of Easton.

EASTON 0

ALLENTOWN 0

Playing in a sea of mud and relentless downpour of rain at Allentown, the Easton Red Rovers, sparked by fine defensive playing, held the Allentown Canaries to a scoreless tie.

ALLENTOWN CENTRAL

CATHOLIC 0

Two rough, hard-playing teams met at Cottingham Stadium and played one of the greatest defensive games of the year. After four quarters the score stood: Easton 0, Allentown Central Catholic 0.

PHILLIPSBURG 13

Playing before a large crowd at Fisher Field, the Red and White put on a fine offensive and defensive display to whip decisively a previously unbeaten P-Burg team. Determination and the will to win were key factors in the Rovers' victory.

TWIRLERS

These high-steppers do a great deal to spread the color and grandeur of Easton High School. The girls in their red and white uniforms put on a show during half-time that rates with the game itself.

CHEERLEADERS

Rain or shine, our cheerleaders are out there rooting. Without the enthusiasm and vigor which these energetic girls inject into the games, our teams could never achieve such fame.

(Front) Marjorie Parr, Sylvia Brewen, Nancy Fluck.

(Second) Louise Kasover, Jane Collins, Helen Napoli, Joan Weiser, Kay Opitz, June Kline, Jerrian Gelbert.

Yo-o-o fight, Yo-o-o fight Fight! Fight! FIGHT!

THERE IS NO PLACE

There is no place like old Easton,
Dear old Easton High,
Where the girls are the fairest,
The boys are the squarest,
Of any old school that is nigh.
There is no place like old Easton,
Where they'll do or die.
We'll all stick together
In all kind of weather
In dear old Easton High.

THREE CHEERS

Three cheers for the Red and the White,
For the Easton High colors so dear.
Three cheers for our banners so bright,
For the team that we all cheer.
We'll beat every team in the world
As soon as our banners are unfurled.
Three cheers for the Red and the White,
For they are royal, we'll be loyal
To our colors.

OPERA

The Easton High School Department of Music presented H. M. S. Pinafore, or The Lass That Loved a Sailor, Friday and Saturday, April 25 and 26, 1952. This operetta was written by Gilbert and Sullivan. Mr. James B. Beam directed, and Mrs. Kathleen Richards, Miss Minnie Ackerman, and Mr. Cooper assisted in the production of this two-act comic opera, which was composed of twenty-one separate songs or combinations of songs. The following sang the leads:

Sir Joseph Porter, K. B. C.

"This way, please,"—is a familiar request to all the students. This important organization is comprised of nineteen boys, who ushered at the football games, senior play, class day, commencement, baccalaureate, community concerts, Lehigh Valley Symphony Concerts, and many social activities held in our auditorium. Our thanks go to these boys who have worked hard for the Class of 1952!

The Junior Historians Club was organized to promote interest in the history of Pennsylvania. During the year the club sponsored a bake sale. At the meetings, members of the club gave book reports and listened to guest speakers. One of the most interesting events was a trip to the local Historical Society Museum.

The F. T. A. was organized in 1950 to provide its members with information about the opportunities in the various fields of education. This year's club consisted of fourteen prospective teachers. The senior members substituted for regular teachers during the year.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

Le Cercle Francais was started in 1926 by Miss Verna Reed. Since that time, the club has been active each year.

This year the theme of Le Cercle Francais was—"France in America." The activities of the club were seeing French films and slides, hearing a speaker from France, and publishing a French newspaper, "La Feuille." All the material was written in French. The paper included a French menu, stories, poems, and a crossword puzzle.

SODALITAS LATINA

The initiation of the new members of the Sodality Latina was held in October, 1951, and took the form of a mock Roman funeral procession and burial service.

After the death of citizen "Romanus," the body was dressed in the toga and placed on its wicker funeral couch, its feet toward the door of room 211. On the bier were flowers, greens, and two candlesticks. Above it was the injunction: "Do not Disturb. Requiescat in Pace." In the teeth of the dead was placed a coin which was to pay his passage in Charon's boat across the River Styx to the Lower World.

In the procession to the tomb at Hacketts Park, the body was borne on the shoulders of the "sons" and "near relatives" of the deceased. A band of musicians was in the lead, and close behind was a group singing dirges in praise of the dead.

Another group was composed of buffoons and jesters, joking with bystanders and making merry. Family, slaves, and friends followed, weeping unashamedly and lamenting loudly. All were dressed in the traditional toga.

Upon arrival at the burial place, the funeral party first consecrated the ground. A shallow grave was dug and filled with wood, on which the body was placed. Those present threw spices and gifts upon the pyre, which was then lighted with a torch. The relative who ignited it turned away during the act. After the fire had died down, the embers were extinguished with "wine" and the water of purification was sprinkled three times upon the people present.

The ceremonials being over, the "mourners" settled down to a post-funeral feast consisting of hot dogs and soft drinks.

LA FRATERNIDAD ESPANOLA

The members of La Fraternidad Espanola met the second and fourth Mondays of each month to learn more about Spanish-speaking people and their customs.

Among the activities of the club were movies on Mexico and other Latin-American countries. The club members had pen pals in these countries and corresponded with them in Spanish.

The annual Christmas party was held and the members of the club enjoyed the many treats from the pinata, which is used in Mexico instead of a Christmas tree. It is made of clay and is filled with cookies, candies, and other sweets.

Tom Wirebach, Charles Churchman, Mr. Carril, Herbert Cohen, Joe DeThomas, Joe Sidoti, Salvatore LaDuca

BREAKING
PINATA

If you lived in Mexico, you would probably learn this song before any other, for it is used as a serenade on people's birthdays or Saint's Days, usually at four o'clock in the morning. School children sing it beneath their teacher's window, young fellows sing it for their sweethearts, and army officers have the whole army band play it for their friends. No one knows how old it is or who composed it, but it has a different version almost every time it is sung.

Estas son las mananitas que cantaba el Rey David, y a las muchachas bonitas
se las cantaba así.

Amapolita adorada
de los llanos de Tepic,
si no estas enamorada,
enamorate de mi.

Que bonitas mananitas!
Parece que va a llover.
Así estaba la mañana cuando te empecé a querer.

Coro: Despierta, mi bien, despierta!
Mira, que ya amaneció!
Ya los pajaritos cantan,
a la luna se oculto.

DER DEUTSCHE VEREIN

Der Deutsche Verein was organized many years ago by students interested in the study of the German language and customs. Most of its meetings this year were in the form of a business meeting followed by number and word games in which the German language was used to help the members build more active vocabularies.

During the year the members enjoyed such activities as the initiation of new members and the annual Christmas party.

CHESS CLUB

The Chess Club is one of the most intellectual organizations of Easton High School. It is composed of members who are learning to play chess or who have already learned. During the year competition among the members was keen. The members will always remember with pleasure the matches with Allentown, Allentown Central, Phillipsburg, and Wilson.

MATHEMATICS CLUB

The mathematics club of Easton High School is a group of students interested in any phase of mathematics. During the year the club met twice a month on the first and third Thursday.

Once a month the club discussed Brainteasers, a list of mathematical problems and tricks. Members of the Brainteaser Staff were: William Dennis, William Sigal, Leonard Cohen, Chauncey Howell, and William Evans.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

The Chemistry Club of Easton High School planned to further interest in chemistry and to extend the knowledge of the application of chemistry in everyday life, particularly in modern industry. In order to accomplish this, they have entertained guest speakers and taken trips. Their guest speakers have stimulated the interest in subjects related to Chemistry, while the trips have created a common interest in the club.

The Aelfric James, Sr., Library Memorial stands out as an achievement most singular and worthy. This benevolent act would prove any such organization to be an honorable one.

PHYSICS CLUB

The Physics Club of Easton High School, under the guidance of Mr. Hurley O. Patterson, is an organization which attempts to stimulate more scientific interest and critical thinking.

Although this club was of small size, its activities were of no small importance. Among these activities, experiments and trips seemed to be prevalent. Such places as the water plant, Gilbert Power Station, and Franklin Institute were visited.

During the year, Dr. R. Montgomery from Lafayette College spoke on the topic, "Adventure with Germs and Crystals," and Mr. James L. Dyson, also from Lafayette College, spoke on "Exploring in the Northern Rockies."

PONDERS AN EXPERIMENT

One of the most important formulas the members of the club learned this year was Einstein's Famous Formula of 1905. This formula shows the relationship between matter and energy. It led us to the Atomic Age. This formula is:

$$E = MC^2$$

E = energy in ergs

An erg isn't much energy. It's about the amount of energy used to lift a postage stamp the height of its own thickness. A tremendous number of ergs from a change of one gram of mass, from nuclear fission, represents a huge amount of energy, about enough energy to supply a modern home with electricity for 6,000 years.

M = amount of matter in grams

C = speed of light in centimeter or 30,000,000,000 cm per second

C<sup>2</sup> = 900,000,000,000,000,000

MRS. SITGREAVES	Adviser

The Mary Meyers Junior Auxiliary was organized on February 2, 1940, by a group of girls who were interested in helping with the March of Dimes. The club was named for Mrs. Mary Meyers, who was its first adviser. One of the outstanding events of the year was the Annual Bunny Ball.

The Easton Girls' Auxiliary originated with daughters of the Easton senior organization. This club has sponsored the Blue Ball for many years.

During the year these girls made favors for hospital trays, sponsored two bake sales, and volunteered their services at the hospital. Both groups were granted charters this year by the Student Council.

The Senior Y-Teens began the year with a compulsory Recognition Service. Also included in the many activities of the Y-Teens were the Interclub Council Dances, a Bazaar in which the Y-Teens and the Y-Teen mothers helped, and the Mother and Daughter Teas. A collection was also taken in which all the Y-Teens brought cookies and cakes for the Children's Home. Y-Teen Week was planned and displayed by the wearing of the Y-Teen emblem. Another project undertaken by the Senior Y-Teens was selling novelties, some of which were miniature compacts, pen and pencil sets, and salt and pepper shakers.

The Hi-Y is one of the most important organizations in the school. Since each member is voted in, membership in this group is considered an honor.

The purpose of the club is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian living and to uphold the ideals of clean sports, clean speech, clean scholarship, and clean living.

Throughout the school year and in the years to follow, the members will strive to improve these high ideals of their platform.

DEWEY DECIMAL CLUB

The Dewey Decimal Club is composed of library assistants and secretaries. The library assistant performs such duties as checking out books and magazines, checking in library permits, and rendering whatever assistance she can to make the library an easier place in which to work. She also helps Mr. Rentschler with other various duties including typing, processing new books, printing signs, writing overdue notices, and stamping recently received magazines. The library assistants usually give up one study hall a week to work in the library.

The other half of the club is made up of the secretaries who perform these duties: typing letters, catalog cards, book orders, reports, circulation reports, and many other varied and interesting duties connected with library work. The secretaries are usually commercial students who give up five study halls a week to work in the library.

Social events of the club were an outing at Hacketts Park, the annual Christmas party, and an annual Spring party.

"I pledge myself to uphold the high purposes of this Society to which I have been elected, striving in every way, by word and deed, to make its ideals th ideals of my school and of my life."

This is the pledge that each new member takes as he is accepted into the National Honor Society of Easton High School. The honor represented by this Society and conferred by the school is one of the highest a student can receive. The Society represents the fundamental objectives of scholastic institutions, and gives recognition to those who have most nearly attained the desired ends.

Second Row: Marjorie Parr, Joan Richards, Carl Miller, Bob Yost

Third Row: Joan Adams, Barbara Unangst, Lorraine Stewart, Joseph Sidoti

This Society creates enthusiasm for scholarship throughout the school and encourages a desire on the part of the students to render service both to the school and to the community. Election to the Society is based not only on scholarship alone, but also on the extra curricular activities of a student, and his willingness to render cheerfully and enthusiastically any service to the school whenever he may be called upon. The student is expected to show initiative in promoting high-school activities and to demonstrate honest spirit in his class work as well as a spirit of cordiality and sincerity toward his associates.

ALBERT ZARBATANY

EASTON COLLEGE PREP

Since he is one of our rugged E.H.S. wrestlers, it is understandable that Zarby likes sports. In school he is happiest when in Doc's English class, but good food will appeal to him at any time.

HR Chairman 3; Sodalitas Latina 2; Math Club 2; Hi-Y 2, 3; Wrestling 1, 2, 3.
